Question 1: What statement correctly defines a noun?

- a) The punctuation mark used to indicate a pause rather than a full stop
- b) A word that is used to refer to a person or thing without repeating their name
- c) A word that describes a person, place, or thing

Question 2: Which of these is not a noun?

- a) Bus
- b) Jack
- c) Eat

Question 4: Other than the ones I mentioned on the previous page, can you list some more noun types for me? You might have read about them in the guide dealing with nouns on GrammarGramps.

Question 5: Can you circle all the nouns in the following passage:

There was once a stag who gazed at itself in a pond in the forest. It beheld its mighty antlers and graceful legs. It bowed its head in gratitude and trotted away, enjoying life, unlike that one other stag who became the subject of the story "All that glitters is not gold."

Question 6: Which of these is not a pronoun?

- a) He
- b) She
- c) It
- d) Were

Question 7: Is the following statement true or false?

Pronouns can be used to refer to a verb, and not just a noun or a noun phrase.

<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="text"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="text"/>

Write "Yeet" in front of the tick if you think it is true and in front of the cross if you think it is false.

Check the next page to find whether you were right or wrong.

The statement in question number 6 was:

FALSE

Pronouns are exclusively used to refer to nouns and noun phrases.
